

Tenure Track Assistant Professor position in Strategic Management and/ or International Management, Stockholm School of Economics (SSE), The Department of Marketing and Strategy

The Department of Marketing and Strategy at the Stockholm School of Economics invites applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level in Strategic Management and/or International Management.

We are looking for candidates with a completed Ph.D. degree in Business Administration; primarily Strategic Management but related subdisciplines like International Management could be relevant. The ideal candidate has with a promising research record as evidenced by publications in or the conceivable potential to publish in top tier journals. We are looking for candidates with a documented interest in and experience from research in strategy process and practice, strategic entrepreneurship, and/ or behavioral/ cognitive strategy.

The successful candidate will be part of the core faculty in Strategic and International Management and teaching tasks (in English) fall within these two areas on all educational levels. The standard teaching load for tenure track faculty at SSE is four courses per year (40%) with the possibility of a 50% reduction through external research grants. For the right candidate there are ample opportunities to engage with the wide network of partner organizations and companies at the Stockholm School of Economics.

The expected start date for the position is January 1, 2021, but we are open to discussing alternative start dates. Salaries are competitive, commensurate with qualifications and experience, and are set on an individual basis. The tenure track period is 6 years, conditional on successful mid-term review after 3 years. Tenure evaluation takes place after a maximum of 6 years, and successful evaluation leads to conversion of the tenure-track position into a tenured Associate Professor position.

Requirements

- A PhD (by the time of assuming the position) focused on Strategic Management and/or related areas, e.g. International Management, from an accredited university or business school (EQUIS, AACSB, and/ or AMBA).
- Demonstrating a strong research interest in strategic management and a commitment to high quality research in relevant areas. Preference will be given to candidates who have published in top journals, have a proven track record of international peer-reviewed publications, and/ or a strong pipeline of submitted papers.

- Candidates should have a commitment to high quality teaching and documented experience from teaching relevant courses and must demonstrate teaching effectiveness as indicated by teaching evaluations, letters of recommendations and/or peer reviews.
- Finally, candidates should demonstrate an ability and willingness to undertake administrative duties and play a full part in the intellectual life of the department and school at large.
